Study information

The study programme of your group is available at Study guide. The detailed study schedule is available at <https://lukkari.turkuamk.fi>. The code of your study group: YBINBK22

Studies in the degree programme are based on blended learning. As a rule, you will have once a month two contact teaching days. Contact teaching is a very important part of your studies. Between the contact days, you will carry out learning tasks independently.

Please, get familiar with our studying IT-systems independently beforehand with Digistart –material. You can find it in itslearning –learning platform where you will be able to log yourself after you have activated your user ID.

Important!

Please, check the latest safety instructions and recommendations concerning COVID19 and act accordingly.
